CLEAR UP DOUBT

CALIFORNIA THROWS OVER ITS LEADER, JOHNSON, AND RALLIES TO LEAGUE.

WEST GIVES HIM OVATION

All Doubtful Features of Pact Are Explained Away By President, and Former Doubters Hasten to Give Him Their Support.

(By Independent News Bureau, former Mt. Clemens News Bureau.)

Aboard President Wilson's Special Train—A continuous ovation along the Pacific coast and then on his eastward way back toward the capital was given to President Wilson as he came toward the end of his month daylong speaking tour in behalf of the League of Nations. California, particularly the delightful city of Los Angeles, went wild in its enthusiasm for him and his advocacy of the League, and it was in that state, perhaps, that he did his most successful missionary work.
Hiram Johnson, California's former governor, now her United States senator, and considered by her as the most likely Republican candidate for the presidency in 1920, had before the arrival of President Wilson, convinced a great number of citizens that the League as at present formulated was not a good thing. He had told them that the United States, because of it, would be drawn into every petty European quarrel; he argued that we would lose our sovereignty by joining with the European nations. He had blamed the president for assenting to the possession by Japan of the Peninsula of Shan Tung in China.

BUREAU CHANGES NAME

The Mount Clemens News Bureau, which has been furnishing reports on President Wilson's tour in behalf of the League of Nations to 5,500 papers, has adopted a new name and will hereafter be known as The Independent News Bureau.

But Mr. Wilson, with clear logic and with compelling eloquence, answered to the entire satisfaction of California's people every objection which Senator Johnson had made to the League. And thousands of the state's citizens deserted the Johnson standard immediately and rallied to the support of the president. More than that, they came forward and said, "We were against you, Mr. President, but you have cleared everything up and now we are with you heart and soul." Still more than that, they let Senator Johnson know that they were no longer with him and that they disapproved of the speaking tour which he himself was making in opposition to the League and so powerful was the volume of public opinion which reached him, that the senator almost immediately abandoned his tour. The Shan Tung question, because of the anti-Japanese feeling which undoubtedly exists along the Pacific coast was the most serious which the president had to answer. He explained to the people that he had been powerless to prevent the rich peninsula from being given to Japan. England and France, through a secret treaty, had promised it to Japan for entering the war and remaining in it. That treaty had to be carried out. Anyway it was not China that was losing Shan Tung, but Germany, which had seized the territory from China in 1898 and held it ever since. Japan had promised, the president explained, to return Shan Tung as soon as the peace treaty was ratified and it was only through the ratification of the treaty with the League of Nations inclusion, that China could ever expect to get her former property back. And she surely would get it back, he declared, through the ratification of the League. Therefore, through the same instrumentality no other nation could again prey upon the "Great, patient, diligent, but helpless kingdom." As to our being drawn into any European conflict. The president pointed out that no direct action such as the sending of troops to any part of the world to maintain or restore order could be taken by the Council of the League without a unanimous vote of the council members, therefore our vote could at once negative any such proposition as sending our soldiers where we did not want them sent. Besides, Mr. Wilson argued, "If you have to quench a fire in California you don't send for the fire department of Utah." But, he argued, there probably never will be another war, if the League is established, for the members promise either to arbitrate their difference and accept the decision of the arbitrator, lay the differences for discussion and publication before the Council of the League for a period of six months, and then, if possible, accept the council's advice.
That failing, they agree to refrain from war for a further period of three months and nine months of "cooling off," the president contended, would prevent any armed conflict. These clear explanations satisfied every reasonable hearer and destroyed the "Bugaboos" which Senator Johnson and others had raised against the League. Through rugged Nevada into Utah, the land of Mormons, the president swept to find that those fine people were heartily with him for the League and a permanency of peace.

By WM. A. RADFORD.
Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose three-cent stamp for reply.

In spring a young man's fancy may turn to thoughts of love, but to the man of family, after a winter of more or less discomfort in his old house, barren of many of the modern conveniences, thoughts of a new home are more engrossing. During the winter evenings that new home that has been in contemplation for several years now has been discussed by the whole family and many ideas of what that home should be, both as to exterior appearance and interior arrangement and of what materials it should be built, have been advanced.

However, the head of the family —the man who provides the money for the new home—is the man who has the last say. To him there enters the idea of practicability, coupled with cost. He is in favor of the new house; in fact, he has decided to build, but to him there are things of greater importance than a nook here and an angle there. There is The house contains ten rooms and bath, six bedrooms providing sleeping accommodations for at least that many persons. Five of the bedrooms are on the second floor and one on the first floor.

The front entrance door opens into a hall 4 by 10 feet. To the left is the front stairway, and at the right through double glazed doors is the living room. Being the gathering place of the family, this room is large, 17 by 13 feet. At one end is an open fireplace with spaces for built-in bookcases on either side.

The dining room is immediately back of the living room through an open double doorway. This room is 14 by 13 feet, but its straight lines are broken by the bay window, which forms an alcove 2 by 9 feet, providing a place for either a long wall seat, or flowers.

Many conveniences in kitchen.
Connecting with the dining room is the kitchen, 10½ by 13 feet. Here every convenience is provided. Beside the door leading to the dining room is the sink. Adjoining it and running around the full length of the outside wall and part of the rear wall is a work table. On either side of the window is a wall case. Thus does the kitchen worker have everything needed at hand. Off the kitchen, at the rear, is a large pantry, also equipped with work table and shelves. Here is located the ice chest, with an opening to the back porch, from which it may be iced.

Another door from the kitchen leads to the rear hall. Here are the back stairs, a toilet, and a washroom, with plumbing fixtures. The entrance to the washroom is from the back porch, 11½ by 6 feet.

Thus it will be seen that a person can come in at the rear door, wash, and go either upstairs, or to the dining room without passing through the kitchen, which in many houses, in fact most farm houses, is a combined kitchen and passageway. At the end of this back hall toward the front of the house is a bedroom, 10½ by 10 feet.

The front stairs lead to a hallway, which extends to the center of the the question of how he can get a good, substantial, comfortable and convenient home for his family, if he be a city man, or his family and the hired help, if he be a farmer, for the amount of money he has available for the house.

To such a man, the house shown in the accompanying illustration will appear. For here is combined all of the things that a practical city or town man or farmer wants in his home—convenience in arrangement of rooms, provision for the things that will make the work of the housekeeper easier, and a house that externally will compare with the best of them in that community.

Cutting the Corners.
"Corners cost" is an axiom among contractors and builders. The straighter the walls, the less expensive the building. The house shown herewith is a substantial building, with no frills, and at the same time is good to look at.

The bare building is 26 by 41 feet, dimensions that are suitable for a narrow lot. As will be seen by the illustration the foundation and porch walls and columns are of brick, while the house is of clap-board and shingle construction.

The large porch, 22 by 8 feet, the hip roof, and the bay window at the side relieve the straight lines of the building and make it an attractive home from the exterior. The size of the porch, 22 by 8 feet, makes it a comfortable sitting place in the summer.

house and then to the back. At the front are two bedrooms, one 10 by 9½ feet, the other 10½ by 13 feet.
The two bedrooms in the center of the house are 10½ by 13 feet and 10½ by 19 feet. The rear bedroom is 10½ feet square.

At the head of the rear stairs is the bathroom and toilet, two separate rooms. The former is exceptionally large and provides a dressing as well as a bath room.

Closets Are Numerous.
Closets are numerous in this house.
Downstairs there is a large coat closet at the end of the front entrance hall. There are two more closets in the first-floor bedroom. Each room upstairs also has a closet.

This is a substantial home that will appeal especially to the farmer who is considering building a new house. There are no frills about it, yet it is an attractive appearing house and one in which all the modern farm conveniences, running hot and cold water, electric light and sewage system can be installed. As the modern farm now has a power, pumping and electric system, the cost of putting these conveniences in the house will be small, but they will add much to keeping the boy and girl on the farm and making the work in the house as easy as it now is in the modernly equipped barn.

A consultation with the local builder and lumber and material dealer will soon disclose the cost of such a home, either in town or on the farm.

Senator Owens of Oklahoma Charges Interstate High Prices to Monopolies.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—United States Senator Owen of Oklahoma, in an address here, attributed the high cost of living to activities of interstate monopolies, which he declared limit production in many lines, control distribution and are not content with reasonable profits. Diminished world production, impaired transportation and the excess profit tax were contributory causes, he said, and suggested that their rates of profit be controlled by the government.

Must Quiz Alien Workers.
Employers of alien laborers have been notified in instructions issued by the internal revenue bureau to gather evidence from aliens who intend to make this country their home. In this case it is not necessary for the employers to withhold the income tax from wages paid the workman. Without written proof that the alien intends to stay in this country he will be regarded as a nonresident and the tax will be collected from the employer.

As a result of the recent disturbances in Johannesburg between international socialists and returned soldiers, the South African government, F. S. Malan, the acting premier, announces, will immediately introduce a bill in parliament calling for the registration of all aliens.
It will provide also for the de-

Beacon To Warn Lake Ships.
Eagle River, Mich.—To cheat the "graveyard" of Lake Superior of further victims after having taken toll of Great Lake shipping for near a century, the United States Government has completed construction of a light station aid to mariners five miles east of this point. This new beacon will warn all ships from the dangerous Sawtooth reef, which parallels Keweenaw Point for many miles at a distance from a few feet to three or more miles from shore, and on which lie the homes and cargoes of scores of steamers and sailing vessels.

Still Found in Cellar.
Yongestown, O.—To prevent the detectives made a raid in Coitsville Township and in the cellar of a residence found men alleged to have been in the act of distilling liquor. A copper still, six gallons of liquor and ten barrels of mash were seized. Four men were arrested and are being held pending word from Federal revenue officers.

CHICAGO PHYSICIAN IS SLAIN

Dr. A. R. Karremman Strangled to Death and His Home Set on Fire.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Dr. A. Reginald Karremman, a wealthy South side physician, was found dead in his home at 6417 Stewart avenue under circumstances indicating he had been strangled. His head bore numerous abrasions, seemingly made by blows from some weapon. Bruises on his throat indicated he had been choked.
His collar, torn from his throat and stained with blood, was found in an adjoining room. The bed upon which the body lay was ablaze. It is believed his assailant attempted to burtle the dwelling in order to conceal the crime. Two women are being sought by the police in search of a possible solution of the death. Neighbors reported the women had been frequent visitors at the Karremman home, where the physician resided alone.

Russian Chief Apologizes.
Washington.— Boris Baklanoff, Russian Ambassador, informed the State Department that General Roza-noff, superior Russian commander in Siberia, had apologized to Major General Graves, commanding the American forces in Siberia, for the incident at Iman, Siberia, September 5, involving the arrest by Cossacks of an American officer and enlisted men and the slaying of the soldier. The Ambassador also said General Rozaonoff had promised to call for the punishment of the troops which had been guilty.
